

Travelers,

I wholeheartedly believe that as leaders, no matter our position, location or entity, there is a skill set that must be developed, as well as the ability to transfer that skill set as transitions occur throughout our journey of living life. We are all leaders whether we accept, realize, or even practice leading daily because someone always has the opportunity to see, hear and do as we do because of the influence we may all have with or without actually putting a great deal of effort into it.

The purpose of this correspondence is to provide a brief synopsis of the kind of work I do that, in the future, may prove to be a viable option, as well as an asset, for you and your team when in the preliminary planning stages for the next leadership conference, church/ ministry events, church training sessions/modules and programs that support members of all ages within and outside of your congregation, not for profit entity, and especially your youth from preschool through high school/college.

As an educational leader in public education for nearly twenty years, I believe that our children are our greatest asset, and that given the change of the times we often see in the media and within our communities/ schools, it has become more and more vital that our churches become more aware, as well as visible, and active in the lives of our youth within and outside of the church walls so that our youth truly are “trained up in the way that they should go so that when they are older they will not depart”.

In order to make this kind of divine impact, it takes someone who has a skill set, who is not only aware of the education standards, curriculum design and age appropriate lessons/activities, but also the differentiated ways of learning, teaching, and growing and solidifying what has been learned for real world application. On top of that, it is certainly a benefit, I believe, to have someone such as myself that is a born-again believer of Jesus Christ, who truly understands all facets involved with developing quality opportunities that truly make a lasting difference.

I specialize in developing programs, protocols/ procedures and plans that are supportive of the whole person and personalize all that I do based on the vision of the Bishop/Pastor/Minister/entity who is interested in either discussing options for their youth, members, church leaders/ministries, expanding existing programs, restructuring programs or even taking the first steps with opening an actual private school as well as delving deeper into or only at the surface of the aforementioned.

The end goal is ensuring that we are willing to do what it takes to support our youth by planting and watering their seed of faith/belief in ways that are applicable and make sense to their day-to-day challenges. Advancing the kingdom of God is the overarching goal and beginning where we are, thus a new beginning, even when it is not the beginning of a new year by Preparing and Equipping our Youth, so that when they become young or seasoned adults they still say “Y.E.P. I still know God, love God, trust God, follow God and will be a worker in the field I’m in”, which, in a sense, is exactly what I still do in a similar yet different field of education. We need leaders who are believers everywhere be it our city, state, nation as well as our world.

Lifting of a standard of higher excellence and supporting the whole person as to not create learned helplessness but to assist all youth to progress/improve, grow, achieve/meet and soar across all components of their being which is the Spiritual, Anatomical, Social, Intellectual and Emotional (S.A.S.I.E.). Throughout life, when they are provided with greater insight of Jesus Christ and provided tools to survive in conjunction with supportive programs to develop a more balanced life, it will forever change their trajectory and will create not only patience, perseverance, and respect, but a servant's leader heart and mind, as well as unconditional love, for Jesus Christ to keep them standing, steadfast, and unmovable, and rather than considering giving up, looking up to who already has helped them see they are overcomers, they are victorious, they are champions and they are destined for greatness as they are also future leaders and future life-lines.

I pray that no matter your role/position, that you take all of the aforementioned to God in prayer so that if this is a next, ordered step for you and your church or entity, that you reach out and contact me via my website at drsasie.com, which is also where you may visit frequently for updates as my website will continue to evolve and transition as God leads me. In addition, I would be more than happy to schedule a conference call, via phone or Skype. I ask for God's abundant blessings to each of you, your family, church family and your ministries in all that you do to impact lives everywhere!

In His Hands,

Dr. SASIE
